New York Stock Market

New York. January 24.—The New York stock market shared in the general depression of the world's financial exchange to-day. Foreign influences predominated. The upheaval in Turkey with its diffining of peace prospects and the unsettlement of foreign markets, were reflected here in declines among all classes of stocks, running in some weakened appreciably before the opening here. and first prices exhibited sharp recessions among the international stocks. The market offered little resistance to this influence, which fitted in with Wall Street's prevailing bearies mood rather unsteadily throughout the day, at times showing good recoveries, emly to fall back again. The close found quotations generally off, although in some instances well above the lowest figures.

A severe break in Central Illinois, which sent it down six points to 12, was the feature. The break gave rise to rumors wuestioning the stability of the dividend, although there was no official basis for such reports. Union Pacific, which holds $22,500,000 Illinois Central stock, feakened on the fean of a possible reduction of its revenue from this source. A reassuring statement from the president of the Illinois Central was followed by a recovery of more than half the loss.

Selling of stocks here by London was an influence in the decline. London's sales here were more than 20,000 shares, in addition to which there was some selling by Berlin direct, chiefly of Canadian Facific.

The heavy movement of influence to the subtreasury.

WEEKLY COTTON REVIEW.

New York, January 24.—The cotton market has been extremely nervous and unsettled during the past week, and there have been violent fluctuations. Reports that the recent severe decline had been fillowed by a considerable improvement in the demand for spots in the Southern markets and the more favorable advices from the Balkans received earlier in the week started an active covering movement, but an advance of about £2.9 per bale found increased offerings, and reports of the terral dissensions in Turkey cest prices a feet part of the during the part of the during the past of the first time sing series as a gressive. The census report, showing 11,011,24 hales ginned to January 16, proved about a expected.

The uncertainty imparted to the domestic goods trades, as a result of talk of tariff revision, does not yet appear to have materially modified expectations as to season's probable total requirement, and prevailing estimates are still around 14,300,000 or even 18,150,000 bales. Bearishly disposed traders, however, make a point of the supplies carried forward from last season with reference to the suggested deficiency, and there are continued predictions of a slack spot demand for the balance of the past week attributed to the limits of the supplies carried forward from last season with reference to the suggested deficiency, and there are continued predictions of a slack spot demand for the balance of the past week attributed to the limits of the supplies carried forward from last season with reference to the suggested deficiency, and there are continued predictions of a slack spot demand for the balance of the past week attributed to the limits of the first time since last August, but near months maintain their promiting as time and prevailing estimates of the past week attributed to the limits of the defunce of the first time since Promise Case.

New York, January 24—Dr. Cangalosi Ignaci, of No. 40! Madison Street, Hoboken, is thinking of heading a petition to Congress asking for a law fixing the exact market value of kisses.

One thousand kisses sent through the mails to Mary Desiderio, of 16 East Fifty-first Street. Bayonne, N. J., cost the physician just 50 cents each in the Supreme Court yesterday. Dr. Ignaci thinks that rate is excessive, and figures that the court must have imagined the governmental attitude is that the price of kissing comes under the head of "protection of infant industries." The doctor never would have had to pay for his kisses, probably, had he married Miss Desiderio. When he failed to do so, however, that young woman immediately sued him for breach of promise. The bewildered physician protested in court that he never proposed marriage, and that he had always regarded Miss Desiderio as "only his good friend."

But she produced several letters, signed "Ignacy," in which he sent her "one thousand kisses by mail." She added verbally that "these kisses came from his soul, not his hard heart."

The letters won the case. The jury after a short deliberation, decided that
